

The Promised Land of Israel – Conquest and Covenant

The conquest of Canaan under Joshua fulfills God’s promises to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. After centuries of anticipation, Israel finally entered the land God had sworn to give them. This period, described in the book of Joshua and echoed in Judges, is both a story of triumph and a sober reminder of the dangers of compromise.

The conquest was not simply military expansion; it was a divine act of judgment on the nations of Canaan and a gift of inheritance for Israel. As the Lord told Joshua: “Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses” (Joshua 1:3).

This podcast explores Israel’s entry into the land, its battles, its covenant renewal, and its struggles in settlement, highlighting the theological significance of God’s faithfulness and Israel’s responsibility.
