

The 144,000 and Israel's Future – A Biblical Exploration

Among the striking images in Revelation is the sealing of 144,000 servants of God. Questions often arise: Who are they? Are they symbolic of the church, or literal descendants of Israel? What is their mission?

By examining Revelation alongside Old and New Testament prophecy, we discover that the 144,000 represent a literal remnant of Israel preserved during the tribulation, serving God's purposes and pointing toward the future salvation of the nation.
