Global Watch Daily – February 12, 2026

A concise summary of significant developments in Israel and the world through a grounded Christian worldview.

Israel & Jerusalem

Recent revelations have brought to light indictments against a reservist and a civilian accused of using classified information to place online bets on Israeli military operations, raising serious concerns about security breaches within the defense community (Times of Israel; JNS). Meanwhile, tensions remain high as the IDF issued evacuation orders for Tehran ahead of anticipated strikes, underscoring the volatile nature of the regional security environment (Jerusalem Post; Times of Israel).

Diplomatic efforts continue, as US President Trump emphasized the need for ongoing Iran nuclear talks during a recent meeting with Prime Minister Netanyahu, although no definitive agreements were reached (BBC News; Times of Israel). Additionally, cultural initiatives in Aleppo are fostering unity among Syrians from diverse backgrounds, offering a hopeful counterpoint to the ongoing conflict (Al Jazeera; JNS).

Wars & Security (Israel and Region)

The regional security landscape remains precarious as Turkish Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan warned of a potential nuclear arms race should Iran acquire nuclear weapons, signaling a shift toward conditional proliferation policies in Ankara (Long War Journal; FDD). Meanwhile, Iraq continues to face political deadlock three months after elections, with American objections contributing to stalled government formation efforts (Long War Journal; FDD).

The ongoing US-Iran military standoff continues to draw international attention, with significant military assets deployed and diplomatic efforts underway to prevent escalation (FDD; Long War Journal). Additionally, expert testimony before the UK Parliament highlights the importance of collective diplomacy in addressing regional crises such as Venezuela, reflecting broader geopolitical challenges (Chatham House; Chatham House).

Global Macro & Geopolitics

Bangladesh is undergoing a pivotal election, the first since mass Gen Z protests ousted the previous leader, with voters hopeful for a return to democracy after nearly two decades of authoritarian rule (BBC News; France24). Meanwhile, NATO defense ministers are convening to discuss ongoing support for Ukraine and to enhance security measures in Greenland and the Arctic through the launch of the 'Arctic Sentry' mission (France24; The Diplomat).

Political tensions are also evident in Thailand, where opposition parties have called for election recounts amid allegations of fraud, reflecting broader regional challenges to democratic processes (The Diplomat; BBC News). Economic shifts are underway in Indonesia, where a new economic orthodoxy emphasizing social assistance over traditional growth models is gaining traction (The Diplomat; France24).

Pestilence & Global Health

Groundbreaking research has revealed how life experiences, alongside genetics, epigenetically shape the human immune system, explaining varied responses to viruses among individuals (ScienceDaily). Concurrently, new nasal vaccines demonstrate promising protection against H5N1 bird flu, potentially preventing early-stage infections (ScienceDaily).

Studies also highlight the rapid spread of respiratory viruses such as COVID-19 and H1N1 across US cities, underscoring the critical need for early detection systems to manage future pandemics (ScienceDaily). Meanwhile, scientists have identified a unique sugar on drug-resistant bacteria that can be targeted by antibodies to defeat deadly superbugs, offering new therapeutic avenues (ScienceDaily).

Emerging infectious threats include a bat-borne virus infecting humans in Bangladesh, raising concerns about undetected zoonotic diseases alongside known pathogens like the Nipah virus (ScienceDaily). Additionally, cultural and healthcare factors may explain why long COVID brain fog symptoms appear more severe in the US compared to other countries (ScienceDaily).

Natural Disasters & Signs in the Heavens

Recent seismic activity in Hawaii includes a 1.7-magnitude earthquake north of Pāhala and a 2.2-magnitude quake south-southwest of the same area, both recorded by the USGS and highlighting ongoing tectonic activity in the region (USGS; USGS). Additionally, a minor

0.8-magnitude earthquake was reported near The Geysers, California (USGS).

In the realm of scientific advancement, NASA has completed the first flight test of a laminar-flow scaled-wing design aimed at reducing drag and improving fuel efficiency for future commercial aircraft (NASA). Meanwhile, the Dolomites region prepares to host skiing and sliding events for the 2026 Winter Olympics, showcasing the natural beauty and topography of Cortina d'Ampezzo (NASA).

Weather patterns indicate lake-effect snow in the Lower Great Lakes and an unsettled atmospheric pattern in the Pacific Northwest, according to the National Weather Service (weather.gov).

Middle Eastern Artifacts

Archaeological excavations on Ha-Te'uda Ha-Aduma Street in Yafo have uncovered a range of military artifacts, including cannonballs and small-caliber bullets, likely linked to historical sieges from the late 18th and early 19th centuries (Israel Antiquities Authority). Complementing these findings, glass artifacts from the same site reveal everyday life in early 20th-century Yafo, with bottles and bracelet fragments spanning the Mamluk and Ottoman periods (Israel Antiquities Authority).

Further south, the extensive salvage excavations at Khirbat 'Amra in the Be'er Sheva Valley have documented architectural remains and artifacts from the Hellenistic through Early Islamic periods, offering valuable insights into the region's long-term settlement history (Israel Antiquities Authority).

Reflection

We should interpret these developments soberly, resisting both panic and apathy while attending to what is true. Our aim is prayerful discernment—grounding convictions in Scripture and keeping watch with steadiness and hope.
